

New Service Club To Raise Its Head In Didsbury Monday

Didsbury's newest service club, the Kinsmen Club of Didsbury, will officially receive its charter and be welcomed into the Association of Kinsmen Clubs at a charter night and dinner to be held in Didsbury on Monday evening, April 29th.

Known as the "young man's service club" as a result of its age limitation of 21 to 40 years for active membership, the Association of Kinsmen Clubs enjoys the unique distinction of being the country's only national, all-Canadian service organization, all its clubs being in Canada only. Its present membership totals over 10,500 members in 311 clubs throughout Canada, from British Columbia to Newfoundland.

The local club, which will be the 33rd club in Alberta, will be chartered with 26 members, all from Didsbury and district, and has elected the following officers: President, Spence Warren; directors, Fred Rodway, Buck Barrett; secretary, Stan Janzen; treasurer, Trev Morgan; assistant secretary, Stan Oole.

Broadly speaking, the aims and objects of the Kinsmen Clubs are to improve its members through service to others, to interest its members in the welfare of their communities through the carrying out of service work, and to train young men to accept the greater responsibilities and obligations that will be theirs during their most productive years, i.e. after age 40.

Originally conceived in Hamilton in 1920, the Association of Kinsmen Clubs has a long and distinguished record of service work, both on national and local scales.

Guests at the charter night are expected from Kinsmen Clubs in Calgary, Banff, Three Hills, Hanna, Drumheller, Red Deer, Lethbridge and other points in Alberta.

EASTER THANK-OFFERING SERVICE AT KNOX UNITED

On Monday, April 15, a special Easter thank-offering meeting was held in Knox United church, with Rev. A. Magee of Carstairs United church as guest speaker. Mrs. S. S. Sinton, president, opened the meeting with hymn and prayer. The devotional service, with an Easter message, was given by Mrs. Red Clarke. There were only 16 ladies present due to the muddy roads. Mrs. C. Leeson was organist in the absence of Mrs. Nichol.

Rev. Magee spoke on "Achievements of Women in the Church." Mrs. N. McKay and Miss Bernice Clarke sang a beautiful duet. Mrs. Russell Gullie, Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. L. Wrigglesworth gave a short play entitled "It Could Be You."

The entire program was excellent and greatly enjoyed by all present.

Board Of Trade To Meet Monday

An important meeting of the Didsbury and District Board of Trade will be held in the Lions Hall on Monday evening at 8 p.m.

At a meeting held here on Tuesday morning of this week it was decided to make some investigation into matters that apply to businessmen and residents of the district and where changes or improvements in the local picture could be made.

The answers won't all be there on Monday night, but if you have any interest in the community and district as a whole, you should be there, member or not.

It is regrettable that this meeting falls on the same evening as another meeting in town but it is felt that neither group will suffer too much from lack of attendance.

United Appeal Campaign On The Move . . .

At the United Appeal meeting held here Monday night it was reported that four of the five organizations contacted have agreed to participate in the appeal. These organizations are: The Salvation Army, Canadian Red Cross, Canada's National Institute for the Blind and the Police Foundation.

The Cancer Society was approached but they advised that due to regulations received from the national office of the society, effective from the fall of 1956, they are unable to participate in any newly-organized United Appeal.

The charter has been received and it is expected that the campaign will be held during the forepart of June.

The campaign manager will be contacting all prospective canvassers and it is hoped the United Appeal effort will prove successful, in this, its first year of operation in this district.

WAS IT YOU ? ? ?

Someone started the whole day wrong — was it you?
Someone robbed the day of its song — was it you?
Early this morning someone frowned.
Someone sulked until others scowled.
And soon harsh words were passed around — was it you?
Someone started the day right — was it you?
Someone made it happy and bright — was it you?
Early this morning we are told. Someone smiled, and all through the day
This smile encouraged young and old — was it you?

A little more smile, a little less frown.
A little less kicking at a guy when he's down.
A little more "WE" — a little less "I".
A little more laugh, a little less cry.
A little more flowers on the path-ways of life.
And fewer on graves at the end of the strife.

DON'T FALL FOR THIS $10 TRICK

Are you looking for a quick easy method of getting rid of Canada thistle in your yard or field?

If so, don't fall for an advertisement in some American publications being circulated in Western Canada offering a sure-fire method of getting rid of the weed if you send along a $10 bill.

The warning comes from officials of the Canadian department of agriculture at Lethbridge.

The advertisement says no chemicals are needed to get rid of the prickly weed and there is no loss in yield.

The advice offered for the ten-spot is that you take a hoe and go to the thistle patch and cut off the weed.

The advertisement is apparently within the law and nothing can be done if someone already has fallen for the trick, but federal government agricultural officials explain that while the advice may be good, it isn't worth $10.

Will Says

W. J. (Will) Edgar

Ladies and Gentlemen:

On June 10th, you the voters of Red Deer constituency, go to the polls to elect a man to represent you in the next Parliament of Canada. I have been nominated to represent the Liberal party in this contest.

To assist you in choosing the man and the party you would like to vote for, I am going to run a series of short talks to inform you just what your government at Ottawa has been doing for you.

Why am I running as a Liberal candidate? Because I believe the Liberal government is still the best government for Canada.

I feel strongly that the Liberal government will be re-elected. Therefore, it is advantageous that we elect a man who can provide positive representation to help shape policy, not merely criticize it. Do you realize that Alberta, with six per cent of Federal representation, is providing fourteen per cent of Federal opposition?

Next week I will speak on Provincial Aid from the Federal government.

Just For The Record . . .

Come next Monday, a new service club will hold a 'charter night' in Didsbury. This newest service body will be welcomed into the Association of Kinsmen Clubs at a dinner on that evening. The age-group for members stretches from 21 to 40 years and with the ones who have already been enrolled in the new club, we feel sure that our town will have a very worthy representative for the parent body. You'll be hearing from them, believe us!

Just For The Record . . .

When the weather was in favor last week there was a bit of grass burning and cleaning up at the golf course. There's things a plenty to do yet to bring the lay-out into top shape but, with a bit of effort on the part of all members it should blossom out as the 'best and biggest little golf course' in the province.

Just For The Record . . .

They tell us the new street lights will be shining our way before too many weeks have passed. Fine enough! We only hope these newcomers to town don't have to aim their beams at the pot-holes within their range that are so apparent on our mainways and byways. Let's treat these newcomers right, let's even off some of the rough spots. Let's keep the lights and the people sorta' half happy! We realize a miracle will not be performed, but let's take a try. Rome wasn't built in a day (hackneyed phrase) but they had to start some place, some time, and eventually the work neared completion; from there on the effort did not seem so great. Once you're over the first tough patch, it never is.

Just For The Record . . .

It's only natural for older people to be quiet. — they have a lot more to be quiet about.

RIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

Jesus is risen! As the risen Lord He appeared to His disciples on Easter Sunday evening, in the upper room at Jerusalem, the doors and windows being locked.

Years ago a number of prominent literary men were assembled in a London clubroom. The conversation veered to a discussion of the illustrious figures of the past. One of the group suddenly asked:

"Gentlemen, what would we do if Milton were to enter this room right now?"

"Ah," replied one of the circle, "we would give him an ovation such as he never received in his lifetime."

"And, if Shakespeare entered?" asked another.

"We would arise and crown him master of song," was the answer. "And if Jesus Christ were to enter?" asked another.

"I think," said Charles Lamb amid intense silence, "we would all fall on our faces."

Charles Lamb was right. Speaking of Jesus Christ, the Bible says: "Wherefore God hath highly exalted Him and given Him a name which is above every name. That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow of things in heaven and things in earth; and things under the earth. And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

But as Jesus entered that upper room, so He is with us always. He pictures and told of her recent ways, even unto the end of the world. Do we always remember this fact and give Him the honor due Him? Remember, Jesus is with you right now, where-ever you are, what-ever you are doing.

The W.I. wishes to thank all those who took part in the variety program, making it such a success despite the inclement weather: $70 was taken in at the door. Mrs. Howard Krebe was the winner in the muffin contest and Mrs. Wilfred Luft for the pickle contest.

As the group sat around the tea table Mrs. Annie Krebe showed pictures and told of her recent trip to California.

SEEING OURSELVES

Robert Burns thought it would be a help if we were given power to see ourselves as others see us. In general, most Canadians are more concerned about being one of the many than they are concerned about being real people. Our political parties are not very anxious to be overly original. They seem to be satisfied to be very much like the other parties. They rather want the public to see in them some ability that will make them better servants, at the same time.

Here we are not concerned about how we see and value the self. To help us see a true valuation of self, we will suggest just a few questions that we may ask ourselves. These formed a part of an address made by R. L. Evans over the air some few years ago. "If you were choosing some one you had to trust, could you choose yourself? Would you like to meet yourself when you are in trouble? If there were no locks on banks, stores, homes or barns would you walk in where you had no right to be? Would you take what you have no right to take? Would you honor a neighbor in need? Would you keep an unwritten agreement you would, a written one? Would you compromise on a question of right and wrong? Would you talk the same about your friends and allies when they are absent as when they are present? If you made a mistake would you admit it? Do you think the world owes you a living? Do you seek to improve your services? Do you strive to do all you can, or do you loaf on the job, and try to make yourself think you are worth much more than you are getting?"

These are stern questions, but questions no one of worth can afford to ignore. In our world the evil effects of facing them honestly is too great to be measured. These are personal questions. We are more likely to say, these matters are all my own business, than we are to settle down in an honest effort to give a fair answer to each. Selfishness is man's most deadly enemy. The false habit of putting self ahead of truth, righteousness, justice, love, God, and others destroys more lives than any other habit in the world today. If we were free from our selfishness we would not be fettered by any harmful institutions, business practices, evil habit or destructive influence. Every crime and offense that calls for redress starts from some form of selfishness. Surely our selfishness is not worth a small fraction of what it is costing us.

"God looketh upon the heart." "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." Also out of the abundance of our inner feelings and emotions, selfish or unselfish as the case may be, will we frame our answers to these heart-searching questions.

A business man had a chance to go to a distant city. He met a man who had once lived there and asked what that far off city was like. The man who had once lived there said, "It is a horrible place." He met a second man who had lived there and when he asked him the same question the second man said, "It is the best city I have ever lived in, and I have lived in a number." Which of these men told the truth? Well, this can be said, they each judged the city by the abundance of their inner feelings, emotions and sense of values. In doing so they were each revealing their own true selves. When we answer these questions our answers will be out of the abundance of our inner feelings, emotions and sense of true values and will in that way reveal our true personal worth.

From a dungeon filthy and dark, Madam Civon wrote: "My cage confines me round. Almost I cannot fly; But though my wings are closely bound, My heart's at liberty. These prison walls cannot control The flight, the freedom of my soul."

LONE PINE W.I. NAME DELEGATES

Mrs. Orvel Schneider was hostess to the Lone Pine W.I. in April 16. Thirteen members and three visitors were present. Roll call was a fancy Easter bonnet. Mrs. Ronald Milne wore the winning hat. Mrs. Peter Schumaker and Mrs. Helvie Nielsen were nominated to attend the provincial convention in Edmonton. The sale of candy for the Scout fund netted $16.50.

Mrs. Jack Underhay gave the sick convalescer's report and also a paper on agriculture, her topic being "Grow Grass and Save Our Soil."

The auction sale realized $7.20. Mrs. E. E. Dowell was the contest and Mrs. Peter Schumaker the 10-cent draw.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Elliott on the 25th.

POTATO SCAB: Almost every day some person asks me how to treat potato scab to prevent scab. A problem of scab goes back further than you may think. Soil that is over-populated with earth worms, alkaline in character, or heavily manured or is loaded with bacterial organism is likely to yield scabby potatoes. Assuming that your ground is in satisfactory condition there is a simple treatment that you may employ to reduce or even eliminate scabby potatoes.

Treatment of the seed potatoes BEFORE they are cut into individual eyes, using a formaldehyde solution should prove beneficial. Proceed as follows: one pound of 40% formaldehyde in 30 gallons of water. Whole tubers in a wire basket or coarse jute bag are then immersed in this solution and allowed to remain there for 1½ hours. Another method is to immerse in the solution for 15 minutes then remove and spread out on a floor and cover with jute or canvas to keep in the gas, leaving covered for about 1½ hours. They should then be allowed to dry.

Such treated potatoes are to be cut after treatment; they are then ready for planting. The netted seed variety offers more resistance to scab than any other variety grown in Alberta.

Next week I will be telling you how to treat your gardens to reduce earthworm population.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

The Master Farm Family program will be carried on this year as it has previously. The objective of this program is to honor farm families who have achieved notable success as farming citizens of the province. It is also designed to draw attention to these farmers and thereby demonstrate the successful livelihood farm families can achieve. In doing this, the program with these awards helps to set high ideals in agriculture and rural citizenship which the rising generation may set their sights on.

A farm family may be nominated to this program by three farmers who know this family. The nominee must then consent to this nomination. The nomination must be in the hands of the local district agriculturist by June 1st of the year in which the family is nominated. To be eligible the family nominated must be Canadian citizens and have farmed for 20 consecutive years.

In the selection of judges of these awards, a regular pattern is followed. The province is divided into a number of districts. Within each district there are a number of units, these units are the district agriculturist's territory. He and the district home economist, a resident farmer and resident farm woman visit and evaluate the farm families entered. From this valuation they decide on the top from their unit and enter this family in the regional division. These are later judged by provincial committees.

In the scoring of a Master Farm family, as the name implies, the family life and activities at home and their contributions to community affairs are considered and scored along with the farming program. Livestock, buildings, crops and enterprises.

As is indicated, this program is an award for the family living on the farm and the award gives recognition to the family which won it and to the district in which they reside. Anyone who is further interested can obtain nomination forms and additional information from the D.A.'s office.

MOUNTAIN VIEW W.I. HOLDS APRIL MEETING

The regular meeting of Mountain View W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. C. Warner on April 17, with nine members and three visitors present. Roll call was answered by "my favorite hobby."

Meeting opened as usual and one song was sung. A report from Mrs. Trev Morgan was read by Mrs. A. Gebers.

All arrangements were made for the handicraft tea to be held on April 27. Mrs. Wood won't be able to take handicrafts over in the a.m. so Mrs. Wm. Mc Coy will be asked to do this, if she is unable to do so, Mrs. C. Snyder will.

Mrs. Reginald Hamper and Mrs. James Worrall are to attend the biennial convention at Edmonton in May, expenses paid. Correspondence was a "thank you" from Mr. and Mrs. E. St. Clair of Olds for a gold tea pot sent them on their golden wedding anniversary; also a note from Mrs. Jake Dahl and baby.

A paper by Mrs. J. Worrall on social services was very good and enlightening on how to secure pensions and how "master farmers" are chosen.

The bit of fun by Mrs. Worrall on guessing how many buttons were in an aspirin bottle, was won by Mrs. L. Hunter. The draw netted $1.15 and was won by Mrs. E. Tighe.
